From Hudson Academy of Arts & Sciences

Dear Husky Families,

Thank you for attending Parent Teacher Conferences, your support for your student is greatly appreciated and is a vital part of their success in school.

Please check your student's Friday Folder. Report cards were sent home with all students today. Have an enjoyable weekend and remember students do not have school on Friday or Monday.

On Monday, October 31st ,we will have our Fall Festival. If your student plans on participating by wearing a costume, please make sure that it is appropriate by following these guidelines. Costumes must be of a story book character, no weapons of any kind, no blood or gore and please make sure costumes follow our dress code. Teachers will be contacting you about their individual celebrations in their classrooms. In addition, this year no clown costumes will be allowed.

On October 19th Hudson Academy will be hosting a Community Informational meeting regarding the Proposed Bond and Mill Levy Override. This seminar will provide:

- an overview of budget cuts to Colorado schools and RE-3J over the recent years,
- Bond and Mill Levy Override election question components,
- arguments against the proposed measures, and
- what happens if the measures fail. Participants will have the opportunity to ask questions and interact with district and school leaders.

Please plan on attending this informational meeting. A complimentary dinner will be provided by the Hudson Academy PTO. Childcare with activities will be provided during the meeting. Please RSVP at feedback@re3j.com
